During the event, the audience will go on a guided journey highlighting the history of the domestic violence movement. It commences with the past and where it all began, followed by a short presentation from local leaders on where we are today. Representatives from our domestic violence specialty courts will also give an overview of their programs. The event concludes with an open discussion on where we need to go as we look ahead.

“I am proud to be a part of this event as I am committed to the fight against domestic violence in this community,” said Prosecutor Walsh. “I encourage everyone to take a moment and think about what you can do to help put an end to domestic violence.”
